POLICEMAN CATCHES SLAYER OF WOMAN

Mounted Officer Dashes from House When He Hears Report of Pistol and Sees the Woman Fall in the Street Covered with Blood.

Taken to the J. Hood Wright Hospital It Was Found that She Was Shot in the Eye and Other Places and that Recovery Was Impossible.

As Mounted Policeman James P. Maloney, of the West One Hundred and Fifty-second street station, was eating his Christmas dinner this afternoon he heard the report of a pistol, and looking out of the window of his home, No. 467 West One Hundred and Sixty-fourth street, he saw a negro running from a doorway, followed by a young mulatto woman, whose face was covered with blood.

Maloney jumped from the table and rushed to the door. As he reached the street he heard two more shots and saw the woman fall. A crowd of men had strung from neighboring houses and were making for the negro, who ran to Amsterdam avenue and turned north.

Policeman Maloney, who is a fine sprinter, was soon in advance of the

BISHOP POTTER ON CRUTCHES

Confined to His Bed Later as a Result of a Fall Sustained While Alighting from His Carriage.

Bishop Potter is confined to his bed suffering from an accident which occurred a few days ago. He was to have preached a sermon this morning at St. Andrew's Protestant Episcopal Church, at One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street and Fifth avenue, but was unable to leave his home.

While stepping from his carriage he slipped and fell, straining the tendons of his right leg. Mrs. Potter said to an Evening World reporter to-day:
"The Bishop is not seriously hurt. He will be out in a few days."

Last night the Rev. George R. Van De Water, rector of the church, received a message from the Bishop saying that he would be unable to appear on account of the accident. Before Bishop Potter took to his bed he was forced to use crutches in moving about the house.

Bishop Worthington, of Nebraska, was summoned to the bedside of Bishop Potter at his home on Riverside drive last night. He told the congregation of St.
Andrew's to-day that he found the Bishop still suffering from the accident and that following the advice of his physician he had determined to remain in bed until fully recovered.

A message of peace and good wishes from Bishop Potter was read to the congregation.

The sermon which the latter was to deliver was given by Bishop Worthington.

LAY DEAD BESIDE HER XMAS GIFTS

Rubber Tube Connecting with a Gas Stove Had Become Detached in the Apartments of Mrs. Mary Weiner.

With her Christmas presents for her son, her daughter and her little grandchild on a table beside her, Mrs. Mary Weiner, a widow, was found dead on the floor of her apartment at No. 218 East Forty-third street to-day. During the night a rubber tube connecting a gas stove with a gas jet in the room had become disconnected and the unfortunate woman was asphyxiated.

The fact that she was found on the floor shows that the woman awoke, appreciated her condition and tried to reach the window or the door, but collapsed before she could do anything for herself.

Mrs. Weiner had a comfortable home and she sat up late last night preparing the presents she had to give to her children, both of whom are married and live in the Bronx. After she had wrapped them, marked them, and arranged them on the table she cooked part of the Christmas dinner they were to share with her to-day, and then went to bed, leaving a little flame in the stove.

The neighbors smelled the gas this morning and tapped at the door. Failing to get any response they broke in the place and found Mrs. Weiner dead.
The kitchen faucet was running, and apparently had been running for some time, for the room was partly flooded.
Mrs. Weiner had turned it on while endeavoring to grope her way to a window.

There was a sad scene at the apartment when Mrs. Weiner's children and grandchild arrived to share a happy Christmas with her. Neighbors broke the news to them as gently as possible, but it was a great shock, and the daughter collapsed utterly. Chris-mas was spoiled for this family, and for most of the other families in the house, for Mrs. Weiner was very popular with all.

CROWDS SEE RACES RUN IN THE RAIN

Avon, 3.

RACE TRACK, NEW ORLEANS.
Dec. 25.—It rained all the morning and the track resembled a canal for the races to-day. A drizzling rain was falling when the races opened, which affected the attendance materially.
Scratches were numerous on account of the heavy track.

Charlie Ellison bought the crack two-year-old Exclamation from S. S. Brown and the horse ran in Ellison's colors in the Christmas Handicap. Exclamation's change of owners enabled Robbins to ride Big Ben.

The field was strung across the track at the finish in this race. Falkland and Falmorian both came wide at the turn into the stretch, the latter swinging to the extreme outside in an effort to get the best of the going. Short Cake and Ora McKinney set the early pace, but when the final test came they weakened and left Falkland and Falmorian to fight it out. Alcorn K., heavily backed by the Easterners, ran a disappointing race.

SECOND RACE.
Six and one-half furlongs.

Gus Lanka and Latuka rushed to the front when the start came and raced like a team until nearing the turn for home, where the latter swung to the extreme outside. In the run home Gus Lanka came away and won in a comfortable manner. Latuka was nearly humbled by Mc Intyre. He had her down in the deep going in the final furlong and this beat her. The favorite, Lovable, was crowded out of it at the start and was never prominent.

EARTHQUAKE SWAYS BIG BUILDINGS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 25.—The State Department has been officially advised of the recognition by Great Britain of the Republic of Panama.

The delay of the English in joining other nations in declaring for Panama has caused more or less speculation, but London declared the slow movement was not significant, and to-day's advice confirms this statement.

CAN'T SEE OR SPEAK TO OWN CHILDREN

Court Decides that Woman Whom Husband Divorced Is Not a Fit Person to Associate with Her Little Ones.

The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court has just handed down a decision which deprives a mother of seeing or conversing with her own children.

The mother in the case is Mrs. Mary D. Woodhouse, whose husband, Joseph S. Woodhouse, of No. 341 West Eighty-seventh street, obtained a divorce in October.

At the time he got his decree the Court held Mrs. Woodhouse was not a fit person to see or converse with her children, and a provision denying her this right was incorporated in the decree.

Mrs. Woodhouse succeeded in getting Justice Blanchard to so modify the decree that she should at stated intervals be permitted to see the children, Harold S. and Clark O.

Mr. Woodhouse, who is a wealthy manufacturer, applied the case to the Supreme Court, and has just been given the decision which again deprives his former wife of the privilege of seeing the children.

LITTLE MOTHERS DINE.

Eight hundred and thirty-five children sat down to dinner given to-day in the West Side Lyceum, No. 201 West Eighty-second street, to the Little Mothers' Society, by Frank Tilford.
Seven courses were served and the children made the best of them, from oysters to ice cream.

Major-elect MacCallan was among those who sat in the balcony. Mrs. T.
Andrews and Mrs. Charles Barnes and "Uncle Harry" made speeches, which satisfied mostly of scores of Claret mas tides. After the dinner there was a vaudeville show and music.

FIGHTERS IN BATTLES ATTRACT THOUSANDS

In Many Rings All Over the Country P Fought Hard for Purses and Glor

It was a fight before the turkey dinner with many exponents of the manly art to-day. In the arenas of many athletic clubs throughout the country crowds surged and saw the athletic knights in battles of bouts ranging from six to twenty rounds.

Many New Yorkers made the trip to Philadelphia to see two lads from their own town do battle with two of Philadelphia's best boys. They were both hard-fought contests.

Chuck Tucker, regarded by sporting men in the East as the hardest nut Terry McGovern could crack, crossed arms with Billy Willis, a lad who within the past month has stood "Terrible Terry" off twice in six-round bouts.

Tucker tried to do better, but the Quaker lad to sleep strengthen his claim to a Govern.

POPE SUMMONS SIX ARCHBISHOPS

Commands Farley, Williams, Ireland, Chapelle, Ryan and Quigley to Visit the Holy See for Conference.

Advises received from Rome to-day confirm the news of the calling to the Vatican of His Grace the Rt. Rev.
John Farley, Archbishop of New York, and add that Pius has commanded also Archbishops Williams, Ireland, Chapelle, Ryan and Quigley to visit the Holy See and give their opinions on the Pope's project to decentralize many of the attributions of the Congregation of the Propaganda.

It is the Holy Father's purpose to take away from the Propaganda business which he believes can be better administered by the local authorities in whose dioceses it lies than under the system which has always obtained heretofore.

With this in view he wishes to familiarize himself with conditions in America, and to his mind there is no better way than by a conference with the principal archbishops in this country.

It is with particular reference to the settlement of disputes and differences arising between ecclesiastics and their spiritual rulers that Pius has formulated his plan. He has discussed it with Cardinal Gibbons, Moran, Logue and Getti and that they have approved of it seems evident in the command to the Archbishops to repair to the Vatican.

It is understood that the work separated from the Propaganda which concerns the United States, will be put under the direction of Cardinal Gibbons, who, on occasion demands, will appoint his administration to the head of the See which can best handle it.
